Connects to Creating Characters on page 225

Take photographs of the characters that children have created with modelling clay. Import the photographs into a smartphone and use an app such as Puppet Pals to digitize the characters. Children can use their puppet characters to tell stories.

Connects to Group Mural on page 235

Have children create a group mural by adding something to a large sheet of paper in turn, either individually or as small groups. Take a photograph after each turn, and then upload all of the photographs onto the interactive whiteboard. Let children view the process, and ask each child or group why they chose to modify the picture in the way they did. What kind of story does their finished picture tell?
