More Decreasing Patterns

The image contains six grid patterns arranged in two rows of three, enclosed in a dashed-line box. The top row shows a decreasing pattern of vertical columns: the first has 5 columns of height 5, the second has 4 columns of height 4, and the third has 3 columns of height 3. The bottom row shows a decreasing pattern of cross shapes: the first is a 5x5 grid with a central column and row, the second is a 4x4 grid with a central column and row, and the third is a 3x3 grid with a central column and row.
