

Connections: Who Am I?

I was born on July 28, 1958.

I ran 5373 km across Canada in 143 days.

There are 14 schools and 15 roads in Canada named after me.

Marathons are held every year in my name in 52 countries.

I lost one of my legs to bone cancer when I was 18 years old.

Every year, people in close to 25 countries participate in
The National School Run Day.

An 83-km section of the Trans-Canada Highway is named after me to recognize my courage.

A 2639-m mountain in British Columbia is named in my honour.

Create your own Who Am I? poster.
Use as many numbers as you can.