

Exploring Circles

Choose a circle.

Make a long paper strip so that it wraps around the circle exactly.
How many times does that paper strip fit across the circle, through its centre?

Repeat with the other circles.

What do you notice about the relationship between the distance around the circle and the distance across the circle?

