

Two teachers. Two classrooms. One school year.

180 Days represents the collaboration of two master teachers—Kelly Gallagher and Penny Kittle—over an entire school year: planning, teaching, and reflecting within their own and each other's classrooms in California and New Hampshire. Inspired by the question, "How do you fit it all in?" they identified and prioritized the daily, essential, belief-based practices that are worth spending time on.

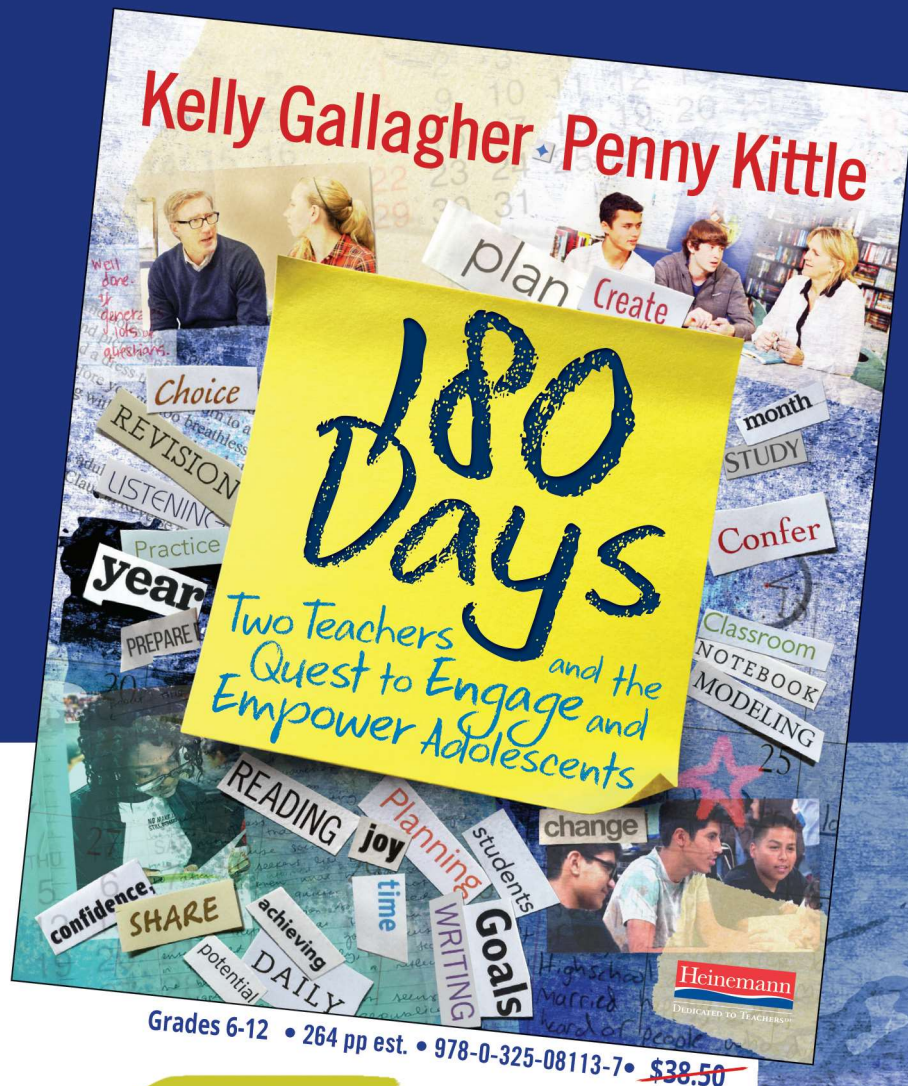

With both the complexity of diverse students and the demands of time in mind, Kelly and Penny mapped out a year of engaging literacy practices aligned to their core beliefs about what matters most. Video clips of Kelly and Penny teaching in each other's classrooms show you what a steadfast commitment to belief-based instruction looks like in action.

Kelly Gallagher teaches at Magnolia High School in Anaheim, California. He is the author of several books on adolescent literacy, most notably Readicide and Write Like This.

Penny Kittle teaches English at Kennett High School in North Conway, New Hampshire. She is the author of Book Love and Write Beside Them, which won the James N. Britton award from NCTE.
